IMPORTANT MEETING OF THE DAIRYMEN

There will be a meeting of dairymen and all persons interested in pure milk supply on September 22, at 9:30 a. m. at Dr. J. M. Hubbard's office. Miss Sarah H. Vance, of Louisville, State Director of Dairies, will be present at this meeting and will give valuable information on dairies and dairy products.

All persons selling milk are requested to attend.

J. M. Hubbard, Health Officer.

R. V. Lantz, teacher of the Bondurant school, was in the city Saturday.

Col. C. L. Walker went to St. Louis Sunday, returning Wednesday.

SCHOOLS OPENED ON MONDAY MORNING

The welcome sound of the school bell is heard again. We say "welcome" in the ultra-modern sense, for to the kids of today, strange as it may seem to us whose school days have slipped far into the past, the opening of school seems to find actual rejoicing. The boys of old—or $5 per cent of them—could see no bright side to the end of a vacation. But we have a glimmering of the reason. The schools have improved—rural schools and all. The backless benches, the dog-eared books, the staid, conservative instructors have faded into memories. It is a pleasure to go to school now—modern methods have destroyed a bugbear and put in its place the various churches, most all of which are now being used to make the children want to be around. This is encouraging. It shows that education is being made desirable, and on that much of the good of the county rests for the future.

This year is going to be one of the best for the Hickman schools. New buildings are being erected and more interest manifested in every way.

Prof. Melvin Rhodes, of the University of Kentucky, was present at the High School on the opening morning and made a good talk. Several of the board were also present and the pastors of the various churches, most all of whom made good talks.

ALBERT BONDURANT DEAD.

A. G. (Bertie) Bondurant died early Saturday morning at the home of his brother, C. C. Bondurant, about 2 miles east of town. He had been quite ill for some time and his death was not unexpected. He was 50 years old July 4th, last, and unmarried. He was the oldest son of the late J. J. C. Bondurant.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock, conducted by Rev. E. L. Miley. Deceased is survived by five brothers, Chester, T., Ben, C. C. and Jim Lee, of Hickman, and Will E. Bondurant of Roswell, N. M., and four sisters, Miss Nell Bondurant, and Mrs. Mary Ligon, of this city, and Mrs. James Cunningham of Union City, and Miss Victoria Bondurant, of Louisville.

Mrs. Charles Stephens, of Memphis, was the honoree of a delightful bridge and rook party given on last Friday evening, given by Mrs. J. T. Stephens and Miss Julia Jackson, with five tables of bridge and two of rook. During the games lemonade was served and later angel food cake and lemon cream. The guests were Mesdames F. T. Randle, H. L. Amberg, R. B. Johnson, K. A. Mitchell, Percy Jones, Nim Walker, W. A. Dodds, E. D. Johnson, W. H. Baltzer, E. B. Prather, Sr., R. L. Bradley, F. E. Case, L. P. Ellison, E. J. Stuber, J. H. Miflet, H. N. Cowgill, Sr., C. M. Reynolds, H. T. Shude, A. R. Stone, Joe Engel, E. Dolson, Mollie Prather, C. B. Travis and Misses Jessie Outten, Mary Berendes, Esther Bartlett and Mary Holman.

Miss Mary Stone entertained at five tables of "500" on Saturday afternoon from three thirty to five thirty. During the games delicious homemade fudge was served, followed by a salad course and iced coffee. Her guests were Mesdames Della Roney, Cowgill Helm, Rob Copeland and Misses Mary Moore, Mildred Gaskler, Louise McMullin, Helen Blinford, Mabel Choate, Elizabeth DePriest, Mary Holman, Leone Clay, Martha Emily Dodds, Myra Faris, Bernice Parham, Louise Choate, Elizabeth Ellison, Helen Tulloss, Helen Walker, Helen Hamby, Frances Smith, Lillian Stubbbs, Mary B. Parham and Frankie Reid.

James Prather has gone to Belbuckle, Tenn., to attend school this year.

BIG PLANS FOR COMMUNITY FAIR

Merchants Plan to Make This the Best Fair Ever Held Here.

At a meeting a few evenings ago the ones interested in making the Community Fair a big success, met and most of the plans were perfected. About the same premiums will be offered as last year and next week we will print the program.

The Fair will be held on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, October 5, 6, and 7, and the first day will be known as "Farm, Home and Livestock Day," the second as "School Day," and the third "Athletic Day."

Some good speakers will be secured to make short addresses each day and other features to make the visitors enjoy themselves. This is strictly a free fair and one where all can come and see what their neighbors are doing in the way of farming and livestock raising, and another feature this year is that the fair is to be a "home coming" event. The directors of the fair are anxious for all former Fulton Countians to make an effort to be present.

Hickman is already famous for her Community Fairs and we want all interested to pull together to make this the best we have had. Crops are far better than they were last year and are bringing a better price, which helps our disposition considerably and we believe most all of our good farmer friends will take a delight in exhibiting their best this year.

Let's keep the dates in mind and begin to plan now to do all we can in making the fair a success. It is a considerable expense on the Hickman merchants but they are glad to give it and we believe their efforts will be appreciated and that all will cooperate with them.

At a meeting of the directors of the Hickman Bank & Trust Co. a few days ago, Luby Roper was appointed bookkeeper to take the place of his father, S. T. Roper, who resigned last week. Luby is a good bookkeeper, and thoroughly familiar with the class of work he will do, having for some time been connected with the bank as an assistant to his father. He has a good supply of both black and red ink will be glad to balance your book at any time.

Cotton has been hanging right around seven cents for the past two weeks, with many loads coming in now daily. The exceedingly hot weather of the past two weeks, while hard on man, has been wonderful on the cotton crop and could almost see the bolls opening, they have opened so fast. Picking is in full swing and the crop is moving unusually fast and very early. There should be some change in circulation now.

The Ladies' Sunday School class of the First Methodist Church entertained the Men's Bible Class with a big spread at the home of W. S. Barkett last Thursday night. A big crowd was on hand to dispose of the sumptuous feast.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cunningham and little daughter, of Union City, were here Saturday and Sunday, guests of Mrs. Mary Ligon, to attend the funeral of Mrs. Cunningham's brother, Bertie Bondurant.

Messrs. Jones and Wilson of Louisville, connected with the government revenue service, are here this week.

"Well! Strong!"

Mrs. Anna Clover, of R. F. D. 5, Winfield, Kans., says: "I began to suffer some months ago with womanly troubles, and I was afraid I was going to get in bed. Each month I suffered with my head, back and sides—a weak, aching, nervous feeling. I began to try medicines as I knew I was getting worse. I did not seem to find the right remedy until someone told me of

The Woman's Tonic

I used two bottles before I could see any great change, but after that it was remarkable how much better I got. I am now well and strong. I can recommend Cardui, for it certainly benefited me. If you have been experimenting on yourself with all kinds of different remedies, better get back to good, old, reliable Cardui, the medicine for women, about which you have always heard, which has helped many thousands of others, and which should help you, too. Ask your neighbor about it; she has probably used it.

BORDER COUNTY NOTES

MISSISSIPPI COUNTY, MO. (Charleston Enterprise-Courier)

Adoption of a new plan for the monthly farmers' sale and trade day event held in Charleston on the first Monday in each month was decided on at the regular meeting of the Business Men's League held Tuesday night at Stricker's garage. Under the new arrangement the auction feature of the sales day is to be continued, but a fee of 2 per cent of the amount which each offering brings is to be made to eliminate the heavy drain upon the league's treasury this event entails, the fee to go toward paying the advertising and auction expenses.

The city council Monday night came to the aid of tourists who, it is said, have become "lost" in Charleston and unable to find their way out of the city in many cases recently, by ordering the erection of sign boards at the intersection of Main and Marshall streets, indicating the direction and mileage to Sikeston, Bertrand, Wyatt and Calro.

Miss Mima Jackson sustained a broken jaw and other injuries Monday night as a result of a leap from an automobile in which she, with other members of the family were driving. The large barn on the farm owned by Mrs. T. J. Johns, three miles west of Charleston, on the Bertrand road, was struck by lightning during an electrical storm about 2 o'clock Friday morning and was destroyed by fire.

Monday night thieves broke into the garage of H. G. McMillan, Ford dealer, and stole a brand new Ford touring car. Up to this time the thieves have not been captured, but officers are on their trail, and it is thought that it will be only a short time until they are behind the bars.

I took Doan's Kidney Pills after being advised to do so by a neighbor who had taken them. I was all run down and felt tired and languid all the time. My back ached and I had pains in my side. ## PROMINENT COLLEGE PROFESSOR TELLS HOW TO ATTAIN SUCCESS

A prominent Eastern College professor, addressing his class a few weeks ago, pointed out the rudiments that will attain success. He stated that neat appearance carried a heavy prestige with the employer, and that in order to make the best impression every young man should see that his wardrobe is complete and kept neat. In order to do this the suit should be kept clean and pressed. No establishment in the city is so well equipped as aquino to handle the cleaning and pressing end of the game. Call 207 and have our delivery service call for that suit next time.

MARKET FOR YOUNG GUINEAS

Best Season Is During Latter Part of Summer and Fall—Sell Best With Feathers On.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The marketing season for guinea fowl is during the latter part of summer, and throughout the fall. At this time the demand in the city markets is for young birds weighing from one to two pounds each. At about two and one-half months old guineas weigh from one to one and one-half pounds, and at this size they begin reaching the markets in August. As the season advances the demand is for heavier birds.

The usual practice in marketing game birds is to place them on the market unplucked, and in most markets guineas are sold this way. They appear more attractive with feathers on, and sell more readily. Dressed, the small size and dark color of the skin are likely to prejudice the prospective customer who may be unfamiliar with the bird's excellent eating qualities. For hotel and restaurant trade, however, guineas should be dressed in the same way as common fowl. Better ask the dealer, before shipping, whether he wants the feathers on or off.

The Department of Agriculture has learned that if the feathers are to be left on the birds all that is necessary in preparing for market is to bleed them by severing the principal blood vessels of the neck, allowing them to hang head downward until bleeding is complete.

If the feathers are to be removed, it should be done by dry plucking. When the brain is pierced after severing the blood vessels in the neck the feathers are loosened by a convulsive movement of the muscles and can be removed easily.

Mrs. H. H. Long, of Memphis, is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Nannie Crawford, of Dorena.

TO AVOID POULTRY DISEASES

Health of Fowls Depends Almost Entirely Upon Clean Quarters and Right Feed.

Many people who raise poultry spend money for remedies for ailments in their flock which they could prevent if they would realize that the health of poultry depends almost entirely upon clean quarters and proper feeding.

Few poultry diseases are caused by anything but lack of precaution. A leaky roof causes damp litter. Lack of litter under roosts causes a damp and foul house under a good roof. Cracks in the floor or sides mean drafts. Lack of clean scratch litter means lack of exercise and reduced vigor.

Lack of balanced rations means a tendency towards digestive troubles. No grit helps to keep feed from being properly digested. Too tight quarters cause them to become damp, foul-smelling and unhealthful. Lack of ventilation causes poultry to lose in vitality. Colds are caused by dusty houses and exposure to moisture and cold.

POULTRY NOTES

Put your eggs in cold storage via the waterglass route.

Keep the baby chicks hungry at all times. Never feed too much.

Pinches of sodium fluoride in the feathers will rid a hen of lice.

Scatter air-slaked lime freely about the houses and yards; it will go a long way towards preventing disease.

Alfalfa meal and wheat bran are, perhaps, the most common "bases" for chick growing mash and they are hard to excel.

Alfalfa meal should be in all mash rations and it will pay to encourage the chicks or fowls to eat as much of it as possible. It makes for greater capacity.

Don't sell the hens because the price of eggs is low and prices for the hens high. Keep plenty of hens to lay eggs for home use and to sell next winter when prices are up.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stokes, of Water Valley, were guests of Mrs. Stokes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Barrett, on Sunday.

Making 20 Years of Racing Serve Car Owners Today

IN the early days of automobile contests, Barney Oldfield—out to win every race—studied tires. His consistent success led other drivers to ask for tires constructed to his specifications.

Twenty years of road and track victories—with a steady and increasing demand for tires as he built them—convinced Barney Oldfield that these speed tests pointed the way to a better tire for everyday use.

The enthusiastic reception of Oldfield Cords by the public proved he was right. Scores of the most prominent dealers in the country—and many thousands of car owners, experienced in the use of tires—bear witness by their decided preference that Oldfield is doing a bigger and better job of tire making.

This volume, handled in an effective way in every phase of manufacture and distribution, has resulted in price quotations far below what you'd expect on tires known to be better built and more enduring.

Practically every important race event for three years has been won on Oldfields. The Wichita Test Run in which an entire set of Oldfield Cords covered 34,525 miles on rough roads proves the mettle of the Most Trustworthy Tires Built in everyday driving.

SHOWER FOR MRS. SADIE DEBOW.

The Mt. Zion Missionary Society gave a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Kate Glenn last Friday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Sadie DeBow, whose home was burned a few weeks ago, and which was deeply regretted by every one, this being one of the old landmarks of Mt. Zion, and many of the people that had enjoyed its cordial hospitality, and whose most pleasant memories of other days are associated with Mrs. DeBow's "big dinners" and the parties that young people always enjoyed so much.

The shower was kept a secret from Mrs. DeBow, it having been arranged by the committee to have her to stop in that afternoon as she was passing. As she neared the house and saw a yard full of cars and buggies, she kept saying, "what on earth can the occasion be?" In a short while after her arrival the house was called to order and Mrs. Evans, the pastor's wife, in a few well chosen words, spoke of the beauty of friendship with its love and sympathy, and then spoke of the present occasion being to show, in our feeble way, our love and appreciation of one who had been so useful and faithful and who was so worthy of our love and honor. Then taking Mrs. DeBow by the hand she led the way to the dining room where the many beautiful and useful presents were and not until then did Mrs. DeBow grasp the meaning of the occasion. For several moments she stood speechless from the shock and emotion and then in broken words tried to express her gratitude.

There was a large number present; some from Union City and Hickman, and everyone enjoyed the reunion very much, which was expressed by R. Y. McConnell by saying, "I knew everyone there."

Punch was served as the guests arrived by Misses Elizabeth Alexander and Virginia McMurtry and later on ice cream and cake were served.

Mrs. DeBow expects to be in her new home by the middle of October.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church met last Monday with Mrs. Tucker, the president, who presided over the meeting. The subject, "The Family as a Social Agency," was one of unusual interest, and many took part on the program. The duet, "Home, Sweet Home" by Mrs. Ambler and Miss Fuqua was very sweet and fitting.

Following the program was a short business session. September being the month for membership campaign, each one was urged to put forth special effort to win new members.

Our society has voted to write a letter to the president of the Fulton County Fair Association, expressing our appreciation for not putting on a carnival this year.

We are nearing the close of our third quarter, and the treasurer is anxious that every one meet their financial obligations as soon as possible.

We meet next Monday afternoon at the parsonage at 3 p. m. Another good program will be rendered. All members are urged to be present and bring a new member.

Avoid Trees During Storm.

It is generally conceded that to seek refuge under a tree during a thunder storm is more dangerous than to stay out in the open. Some trees are more often struck than others, and one scientist describes the sycamore tree as the most susceptible of all. But the man who considers himself safe under an oak, because there is a sycamore a few yards away, is putting a sublime faith in statistics. City dwellers are safer than country folk. As County Judge of Fulton County, Kentucky, the undersigned, Chas. D. Nugent, in obedience to the following order of the Fiscal Court of Fulton County, Kentucky, will offer for sale at public entry to the highest and best bidder, for cash, the franchise described below. Said sale will be made at the Court House door in Hickman, Fulton County, Kentucky, at eleven o'clock, a. m., on September 30, 1922.

Said franchise, the order of said court directing the sale of same, and the terms of said sale are as follows, to-wit:

Franchise.

It is resolved and ordered by the Fiscal Court of Fulton County, Kentucky, as follows:

Section 1. That a franchise is hereby defined and created and the purchaser thereof, or its legal representatives, successors and assigns, be and is, subject to the conditions, obligations, covenants and arrangements hereinafter contained, hereby authorized and empowered to acquire, purchase, construct, lease, maintain and operate in, along, upon, under and across the county highways, streams, bridges and public places, a system or works for the generation, distribution and transmission of electrical energy from points either within or without the limits of said county to the county or the persons, corporations and municipalities located therein, and from or through said county to the persons, corporations, municipalities or counties beyond the limits of this county, and for the sale and distribution of said electrical energy for light, heat, power and other purposes; and to erect and maintain poles, wires, lines, conduits and all other apparatus necessary or convenient for the operation of said system or works in, upon, across, along and under each and all county highways, streams, and public places in said county; and to acquire and hold, as by law authorized, and all real estate, easements, water and other rights, and to take water from the streams of said county as may be necessary or convenient for the operation of said system or works; to use within the present and future limits of said county and all county highways, streams, bridges and public places as they are now or may hereinafter be laid out, while constructing or operating said system or works, and to place the poles, wires, lines, conduits, apparatus and other structures in, along, under and across any and all bridges and streams to which this county can grant the authority, for the purpose of constructing, maintaining, operating or extending said system or works as may be necessary or convenient for the proper manufacture or distribution of electrical energy in, into or through said county; also to make such contracts for the use of electrical energy on such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon by the owner of this franchise and the party desiring to purchase the electrical energy.

Section 2. All over-head poles, wires, conduits and other structures erected under this grant shall be erected so as not to interfere unnecessarily with the travel on such highways, streams, bridges and other public places, and shall be erected under the supervision of the Fiscal Court or such other authority as the Fiscal Court may designate. All poles erected under this grant shall be not less than fifteen feet in height and shall be so located as not to injure unnecessarily any drains, sewers, catch basins, water pipes or other like public improvements, but should any paving, drain, sewer, catch basin, water pipe or other like public improvement be injured by such location, the purchaser of this franchise shall forthwith repair the damage to the satisfaction of the Fiscal Court or County Engineer, and in default thereof, the Fiscal Court shall repair such damage and charge the cost thereof to and collect same from the purchaser of this franchise.

If at any time after the granting of this franchise the Fiscal Court of this County shall widen or change the course of any of the highways on which the poles and lines of the purchaser shall have been constructed, said purchaser shall relocate said poles and lines to conform to the new width or new course of such highways. If such relocation shall be necessary to prevent interference with travel on the highways as thus changed or widened.

Section 3. Said purchaser shall indemnify and forever save harmless the County or Fiscal Court from any and all damages, judgments, decrees, costs and expenses, including attorneys' fees, which said County or Fiscal Court may legally suffer or incur, for or by reason of the use and occupation of any highway, stream, bridge or other public place in said county by said purchaser, pursuant to the terms of this franchise, or legally resulting from the exercise by said purchaser of any of the privileges herein granted. Upon suit being brought against said county or Fiscal Court growing out of the use and occupation by the purchaser of any highway, stream, bridge or other public place in the county, the County Judge shall forthwith notify said purchaser in writing of such suit in order that he or it may take such steps as he or it may deem necessary or proper to defend the case. If it so desires, and the right is hereby given to said purchaser to defend any such suit that may be brought against said County or Fiscal Court.

Section 4. All rights and privileges granted by this franchise are granted for the term of twenty (20) years from and after the purchase of the same as hereinafter provided.

Section 5. All provisions of this franchise which are obligatory upon or which inure to the benefit of said purchaser shall also be obligatory upon and shall inure to the benefit of all successors and assigns of said purchaser and the word "purchaser" whenever used in this franchise shall include and be taken to mean not only said purchaser but also all successors and assigns of said purchaser.

Section 6. This franchise shall be in force and effect from and after the time the same shall be granted to the purchaser thereof.

Section 7. It shall be the duty of the County Judge of this County, as soon as practicable after the adoption of this resolution and order, to sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder the above franchise at the Court House, in the City of Hickman, Fulton County, Kentucky, on some day to be fixed by him, after advertising same by publication once a week for two consecutive weeks in the newspaper called The Hickman Courier, published in the city of Hickman, and in making said sale, he shall receive no bid for a less amount than the cost of making this order and all costs attending said sale and the granting of said franchise, including the cost of advertising, and he shall report his action hereunder at the next regular meeting of the Fiscal Court of Fulton County after said sale.

CHAS. D. NUGENT, County Judge of Fulton County, Ky.

VIOLENCE AND ACCIDENTS LEAD IN KY. MORTALITY

More persons came to their death in 1921 in Kentucky by violence and in accidents than were carried off by any diseases except pneumonia and tuberculosis. It is shown by figures made public by the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Board of Health. Violent and accidental deaths were 1,799, according to the figures, while deaths from tuberculosis were 3,135, and pneumonia was responsible for 2,631.

Total deaths from accidental causes were 1,421, the largest single item, according to J. F. Blackberry, director of the bureau, being burns of various kinds, which were responsible for 386 deaths. Railroad accidents occasioned the next largest number of fatalities, being responsible for 140 deaths, and then in order came mine and quarry accidents, 138 deaths; automobile accidents 93 deaths, and accidental poisonings, 56 deaths.

Of the 375 deaths by violence, 173 were suicides and 202 homicides. In connection with these, Mr. Blackberry pointed out, referring to the need of more stringent legislation against the carrying of firearms, that over half of the suicides were by means of some kind of firearm, and that in the case of homicides firearms were used in 90 per cent of the murders.

FARM ANIMALS

BLACK COLOR IS HEREDITARY

Feeding and Management of Sheep Have Nothing to Do With Appearance of Black Lambs.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The appearance of black lambs in a flock made up entirely of white sheep has been for ages, and is still, a cause for wonder and the basis of superstitions. But the study of the laws of breeding and heredity has explained the reasons for the sporadic appearance of these off-color specimens. In a letter to a farmer who reported 25 black lambs from a flock of 175 purebred Shropshire ewes, all white, and who considered certain feeds the cause, the United States Department of Agriculture gives a clear statement of the principles involved.

Feeding and management of sheep, says Dr. Sewall Wright, specialist in animal genetics, have nothing to do with the appearance of black lambs. The black color is hereditary even though it may be transmitted by ordinary white sheep. The black color in such a case is what is called a recessive character. White sheep which transmit this character at all transmit black in 50 per cent of their reproductive cells (ova in the case of ewes and spermatozoa in the case of rams) and white in the remaining 50 per cent. Thus, such white sheep mated with blacks (which can only transmit black) produce 50 per cent black lambs and 50 per cent white. All of these white lambs can transmit black.

White sheep which transmit only white, mated with blacks, produce only white lambs, but all of these lambs can transmit black. When both ewe and ram are white, but both transmit black, about 25 per cent of the lambs are black, 50 per cent are white, which transmit black, while the remaining 25 per cent are true-breeding whites. In this case it is an even chance that a given ovum will transmit black and an even chance that it will be fertilized by a male cell which transmits black, making one chance in four that both transmit black, which is necessary for the production of a black lamb.

With 25 black lambs appearing in the flock, it is indicated that about 100 of the 175 ewes transmit black, assuming that all of the rams used transmit it. If not all the rams transmit this color, then it is probable that an even larger number of ewes transmit it.

Department of Agriculture Bulletin 905, Principles of Live Stock Breeding, contains a detailed discussion of this problem. It may be obtained from the Superintendent of public documents, government printing office, Washington, D. C., for 15 cents.

Expression Traced to Gaelic. The expression "son of a gun" is quite common in South Wales. It is thought by some that the word "gun" is derived from the original Gaelic "gunna" (modern Welsh "gun"), meaning a bowl; if so, the expression "son of a gun" is a fragment of old Celtic mythology, the bowl or caldron in both Irish and Welsh mythology being the source of and origin of embryonic life.

Decision. However many paths are offered, we can take but one. But when we decide upon a course it is folly to allow the mind to wander continually along the others, speculating concerning their possible advantages, and wondering whether, after all, some other way might not have been better. The real road grows more difficult by permitting fancy to paint the others as smoother.—Exchange.

Image Puzzles Antiquarians. Dug up in Southfields, Eng., a weird little stone figure baffles experts as to its origin. It is of that, of a reddish color, and is, apparently, a grotesque image of some kind. The lower part of the body is, unfortunately, missing, as well as portions of the arms, but the carving of the face is quite clear, though of primitive workmanship. Authorities at the British museum are vague as to its origin, but are of the opinion that it is a relic of post-medieval times. The soil in which the image was discovered is of London clay, and is on the site of a pond which not many years ago was drained for housing purposes.

Queer "Ornamentation." The natives of the South Sea Islands bore holes in the lobes of their ears, which gradually stretch until they reach down to their shoulders. In these openings are inserted such articles as pipes, etc. Anything which comes their way, for which they cannot imagine a use, they are fond of suspending round their necks. China door handles, cartridge cases, wheels of alarm clocks, are often "worn" in this way. One islander has been observed wearing the leg of a couch complete with its castor round his neck.

BUSINESS BLIGHT CONTINUES;
BIG SLUMP IN TAX RECEIPTS

Evidence that the economic panic which began with Republican control of the national government in 1921 is continuing to blight business and industry is to be found in figures covering the collection of tax receipts for July. The decrease in the collections during July this year was $16,456,438 compared with the same month of 1921.

The particulars of this decrease are interesting. They show that business and industry have suffered from the actual depression in foreign and domestic trade and probably also from the prospect of the rise in prices and the disturbance of conditions threatened by the Fordney-McCumber tariff's tariff bill. For example, there was a decline of $2,818,000 in the receipts from income and profit taxes in July this year compared with July, 1921. Keeping in mind the same basis of comparison, the decrease in the other collections were: Estate taxes, $10,275,000 and miscellaneous receipts, including amusements and transportation taxes, $27,177,000.

Even more significant is the steady and startling diminution of our foreign trade under the Republican administration. Our foreign trade in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1922, totaled $6,378,000,000, of which $3,770,000,000 represented exports. These figures show a decrease of $3,752,000,000 compared with the fiscal year of 1921, when our foreign trade was valued at $10,090,000,000, and $5,540,000,000 was exports.

This is a gloomy picture to contemplate, especially when the worst is yet to come in the operation of a prohibitive tariff that is sure to throttle our foreign commerce, leave vast surpluses of agricultural and manufactured products without buyers and thus clutter the domestic market to the injury of all classes.

FARM AND HOME NEWS FROM OVER KENTUCKY

Morgan county farmers officially entered the fall cover crop campaign being conducted over the state by the extension division of the College of Agriculture when 192 of them attended a series of five night meetings held by Co. Agent R. B. Rankin. Suggestions as to what crops to use in protecting fields from erosion and leaching during the winter months, together with the best methods of handling the crops, were outlined by R. E. Stephenson, the college soils specialist.

Forty Nelson county farmers, accompanied by County Agent C. L. Hill, recently joined in an automobile tour which took them to the College of Agriculture farm at Lexington and other points of interest in the Blue Grass section. After inspecting the various lines of work being carried on at the college farm, the visitors continued their trip to prominent farms in that section. Sixty farm boys from Campbell county, headed by County Agent H. F. Link, joined the Nelson county party at Lexington.

Eleven hens culled from the flock of forty-nine Barred Plymouth Rocks owned by Mrs. W. G. Sullivan, Taylor county, failed to produce a single egg during the week after they were removed from the flock, according to a report she has made on the culling demonstration conducted on her farm. The week before culling the forty-nine hens produced a total of ninety-four eggs, while the thirty-eight that were kept as layers produced 191 eggs during the week after the demonstration.

Allen county farmers are showing a lively interest in improved dairying. County Agent A. M. Allen says. More than 300 of them recently attended a series of four meetings held for the purpose of boosting the dairy cow.

START EGGPLANT IN WARM, SUNNY PLACE

Rich Soil and Good Cultivation Is Necessary.

Occasional Applications of Very Weak Liquid Manure is Beneficial—Little Flea Beetle is Most Troublesome.

Eggplant, so called because the great fruits are about the size and shape of an ostrich egg, is closely related to the tomato and pepper and requires very much the same treatment as do peppers, say garden specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. The eggplant is very easily injured by cold and the plants must be started indoors throughout the greater part of the country. Start the seed in the house by sowing in a small box filled with good soil. The small plants should be transplanted to pots or to a shallow box or tray filled with soil and kept in a warm, sunny place until the weather is quite warm. Eggplant requires a rich soil and good cultivation. Occasional applications of very weak liquid manure also benefit the plants greatly.

Eggplant is attacked by several kinds of insects, the most troublesome of these being the little flea beetle which works upon the leaves, filling them full of small round holes. As a remedy, dust the plants thoroughly with air-slaked lime or very fine tobacco dust. By removing the fruits of the eggplant as soon as they attain good size, the plants can be kept healthy until killed by frost. Black beauty and improved large purple are among the leading varieties.

OX-WARBLE IS COSTLY PEST

Loss Caused by Decrease in Milk Flow, Destruction of Hides and Meat Wastage.

"The little ox-warble means an actual cash loss of $50,000,000 to the United States each year," stated F. C. Bishop, of Dallas, Tex., in an address before the American Association for the Advancement of Science, at their meeting in Toronto, recently.

"The loss comes," he said, "through a falling off in the milk flow, illness among the cattle, due to irritation and worry, destruction of hides and wastage of meat when the beast finally goes to the block."

"When the grubs reach the back of the animal," said the speaker, "they make their presence apparent by the bump or swelling their body causes. Gradually they make their way out through the back of the animal and drop off, to begin all over again their life history. The only hope of dealing with the pest lies in energetic action by cattle owners in working out and destroying the warbles from the backs of their stock. The herd should be gone over systematically every 30 days, the grubs squeezed out and destroyed. Of course, even then, there is loss because of the holes left in the skin; five punctures of the back or less by warbles reduce any hide to a 2 grade."

CLEANING AND GRADING SEED

No Other Single Farm Operation Which Gives Larger Returns in Producing Crops.

There is no single farm operation so easily and cheaply done, which gives larger returns than the thorough cleaning and grading of all seed sown. Besides cleaning out the weed seeds, the light weight seeds are taken out when the job is properly done, thus preventing the reproduction of the poorer plants. This practice carried on year after year permits the increase of the best and kills out the poorest. Thorough cleaning and grading of all seeds planted is the first step toward a successful crop. There is no time like the present to put the seed in proper shape for planting.

Carroll Gammons and Miss Minnie Duddy were married Wednesday at one o'clock at the court house, Judge C. D. Nugent performing the ceremony.

Mrs. W. H. Huff has returned home from Mayfield where she has been for the past three or four months.

A. J. Lancaster and Len Williams of Bowling Green, are spending a few days with friends here.

SHOOTING SCRAPE
AT LEDFORD

Boyd McClain Seriously Wounds Otis Newton Yesterday Morning.

As the result of a shooting scrape yesterday morning at Leford, two men are in the Hickman jail, one perhaps mortally wounded and the other incarcerated as the perpetrator of the deed.

It seems that Otis Newton, 26, and his wife, Benton Newton, 18, have been living apart for a few days, and she says by a mutual agreement. Yesterday morning, according to reports, Newton heard that his wife was at Leford, boarded the morning C. M. & G. train and went to that place, reaching there about 8:15. On alighting from the train he found his wife waiting for it, she intended to go to Ridgely she says.

Newton inquired where she was going and she asserts she told him, and that Newton replied, "No, you are going back to Hickman, or I will kill you."

McClain was standing by and on hearing Newton's threat, spoke up, remarking, "I wouldn't do that way, saying I would kill people." This brought from Newton the ambiguous retort that if he (McClain) didn't shut up he would shoot him. McClain then said, "No, I am going now," and started away. Shortly after Newton began firing at McClain, shooting five times in succession, but all the shots went wild.

McClain proceeded to his home, got a shotgun and came back. It is reported that on returning he said to Newton, "You shot at the wrong man this time, you wanted to kill me and nearly got me, and now I am going to kill you." At that he opened fire, shooting Newton in the hip, the charge of shot ranging upward into his side. At the time of the shooting Newton was standing on a trestle, where he fell.

McClain walked out to him and took his gun away from him and helped him up and off the trestle.

Mrs. Newton does not seem unduly concerned over what has barely escaped being a bloody tragedy. She is but 18 years old and says she and Newton have been married for over two years. The wounded man passed a restful night and it is thought he has a good chance of recovery. Sheriff West and Deputy John Wright made the arrests.

PREVENT ANIMAL DISEASES

By Taking Proper Precautionary Measures Many Ailments Could Be Thwarted.

Many of the diseases suffered by live stock on the farm could be prevented by proper precautionary measures, according to Dr. Robert Graham of the University of Illinois. Nearly all diseases to which animals succumb are preventable, he declares, and the surest way to keep your animals healthy is to adopt such health measures as will prevent them from getting sick.

The continuous use of old feed lots year after year without regard to rotation is one way to spread disease. Each class of live stock has its own peculiar ailments, which may be largely eliminated by the rotation of feed lots.

Keep yourself posted as to what diseases are prevalent in your neighborhood, and then do everything in your power to keep your own live stock from getting them.

FEEDS FOR WORKING HORSES

Mature Animals Require Starchy or Carbonaceous Rations to Furnish Needed Fuel.

The character of feed required by horses that are working is quite different from that required by young growing animals or dairy cows. Mature horses need starchy or carbonaceous feeds to furnish fuel rather than large amounts of protein. For this reason corn and timothy hay may be fed more liberally than such protein feeds as wheat and alfalfa. Oats furnish most of the protein needed, and a good rule for feeding a horse doing moderate work is given as one and one-fourth pounds of hay and three-fourths pound of grain to each hundred pounds of weight, but horses at hard work are sometimes given as much as one and one-fourth pounds of grain.

PASTURE IS PIG ESSENTIAL

Rape, Alfalfa and Clover Are Best and Muscle Building Feeds and Cheapen Gains.

Pasture is of course vital to the best development of pigs. Rape, alfalfa or clover should be available to the spring pigs, as these forages contain much bone and muscle-building feed, and they help to cheapen gains.

CLUB MEMBERS GO TO STATE FAIR

The three club members of Fulton County who made the highest averages in the judging contest at the Fulton County Fair are Harold Choate, Louis Hornsby and George Helm. They left Tuesday evening for the State Fair accompanied by the County Agent.

These boys are being sent by the Farmers Bank of Fulton, Farmers & Merchants Bank at Hickman, and Hickman Bank & Trust Company. All their expenses are defrayed there and back.

These boys will act as a judging team representing Fulton County and in competition with judging teams from 50 or 60 counties in the state of Kentucky. They are expected to win some liberal prizes in their judging work. They have had several days of intensive training using various herds and flocks over Fulton County, in preparation for the judging contest.

Appreciation is extended to those who have volunteered to cooperate with the County Agent in the development of future farmers.

DRY BRAN GOOD FOR HORSES

Better for Animals Easily Purged Than Warm Mash—Easy on Digestive Apparatus.

In cases of horses that are easily purged, it is better to give dry bran than a warm mash, and good clean bran may, with benefit, always form a portion of the dry food of all sorts of young horses, as the mineral constituents will be available as bone-forming material. In most cases of illness a bran mash may with safety and benefit be given, as it does not overtax the digestive apparatus, but when there is evident irritability of the bowels, as in diarrhea, etc., it is better to give bran in a dry state than in the form of a mash.

A warm bran mash is, however, of great service to horses that are working hard and receiving a large amount of grain. It should be given on the Saturday night, or any other time when the horses are resting the following day, as it has a decidedly laxative effect on the bowels. Bran in a dry state is an astringent, but in the form of a mash it is a laxative. If given once a week it will counteract the feverish symptoms which are supposed to result from high feeding, but this should not follow if a proper system of feeding is adopted.

USE GOATS FOR PACKING CONTENTS OF SILO

Messrs. Jim and Harold Moran, the wide awake bankers, farmers, trapshooters, etc., filled their huge silo, located at the Moran place in Dresden, last week, and an out of the ordinary method was used for packing the ensilage—that of using some fifteen or more goats as the trappers.

The goats were started at the bottom and, of course, ascended as the contents did, and when they were at the top they were tied and lowered from the structure. This was an unusual thing to some people, as some may wonder how they would get the goats down when the silo was filled. The goats remained in there until the work of filling was finished, some three or four days, coming out fat and in good shape.—Dresden Enterprise.

THE HOME RADIO

How to Make and Use It

By A. HYATT VERRILL

XIV. INDUCTANCES AND TUNING COILS

In order to receive and hear sounds sent from transmitting stations by radio waves clearly and without interference or confusion, a device of some sort is required which will cut out all waves save those desired. This is known as "tuning" and the instruments or appliances used to accomplish it are called "tuners." There are now a great many different devices for tuning, such as tuning-coils, loose couplers, variable condensers, variable condensers, etc. Of these, all but the variable condensers (which are) are coils of various types, the simplest, but by no means the most efficient, being the simple tuning-coils. These consist of a coil of bare wire wound about a core or cylinder of wood, fibre or postboard and provided with sliding contacts as shown in Fig. 20, in which A is the coil, B, the slide rod and C, the slider.

By moving the slider from coil to coil of the wire the wave length of the receiving instrument may be adjusted to catch the desired sound of the wave length. Such coils are very easily made by winding a postboard tube—which should be soaked in melted paraffine to render it waterproof—with bare copper wire about No. 18, making about 50 turns and leaving a space of about 1-15 inch between the turns. If two or more sliders or contacts are arranged still their adjustment will be unobtainable while, by providing rotary switches with five contacts as shown in Fig. 21, still better results will be secured. Although, as stated, these coils are easily made, yet they are so cheap that many prefer to purchase them ready made rather than bother making them. Simple coils or inductances, however, are even simpler, as they consist merely of a few turns of insulated copper wire wound on a postboard tube, the number of turns depending upon the wave lengths to be received. In some sets there is but one coil or helix Fig. 22, while in other sets there are two, a primary and secondary Fig. 23, and as a rule the coil should be tapped and the circuit connected at the tap-off Fig. 24. This is best done by making a loop or twist in the wire at the desired point and then continuing winding as Fig. 25. Of course, in making the connection at this tap-off the wire should be secured free of insulation to make the best contact which it should be wrapped with adhesive tape.

In making these simple inductance coils it is best to put on more turns of wire than you think is actually required, as it is far easier to remove one turn at a time, until the desired wave length is obtained, than it is to add turns after the instruments are set up. Similar simple coils are used in many parts of receiving sets, such as the radio-shock in Fig. 29 L, etc. By making several tap-offs and then leading them to the various contacts of a multipoint switch, Fig. 26, C, excellent results may be obtained especially with the smaller crystal sets with a single simple coil. Another way by which waves of varying lengths may be received by means of simple coils without tuning devices, is to have several coils of various sizes so arranged that they may be connected or disconnected with your set at will. This may be done, either by means of plugs and sockets as in Fig. 27, A, or by switches with several contacts as shown in Fig. 28, B. Still finer adjustment may be obtained by providing each coil with a slider or similar tuning device. This will give a wide range of wave lengths and will obviate all need of rotating turns of the coils and as such coils are very easy to make you can have as many as you desire of different sizes.

Another very different type of inductance-coil consists of two windings, known as primary and secondary, and are similar to the ordinary sparking coils used in other type automobiles.

137 KATYDIDS FOUND IN SINGLE BARREL OF SALT

Tuesday morning at the grocery store of Gresham Bros., in Edinville, while getting salt out of a barrel with a hand scoop, they discovered a bevy of katydids in the barrel of salt.

The katydids were dead, but all of them remained perfectly natural and as green in color as if they had been alive. They counted up to 137 and abandoned the job. There were even more than this number in the barrel. Just how they got into the barrel of salt is a mystery.—Edinville Herald.

EVEN CAREFUL CALOMEL USERS ARE SALIVATED

Next Dose of Treacherous Drug May Start Misery for You

Calomel is dangerous. It may salivate you and make you suffer fearfully from soreness of gums, tenderness of jaws and teeth, swollen tongue and excessive saliva dribbling from the mouth. Don't trust calomel. It is mercury; quicksilver.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tonic you will wake up feeling great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and cannot salivate.

Celebrated for Untruthfulness.

Ananias was a Bible character particularly celebrated for his untruthfulness. As a member of the young church of Jerusalem he conspired with his wife, Sapphira, to make false pretenses respecting their gift of property to the community of the brethren, and was, with his wife, stricken dead. Ananias has since become the name in common parlance for one who notoriously takes liberties with the truth.
